Comment of Editor:

>> Please state the research contribution at the end of the introduction, and abstract for example "The research contribution is..." We need at least two research contributions.

The Method contains an explanation of the research method and the proposed method. This section can include research diagrams, system block diagrams, or flowcharts diagrams.

In the Results and Discussion section, Please provide a comparison to a similar method from previous works (including citation) to enhance the research contribution.

The minimal References are 40 from an English Journal that was published 5 years ago and used IEEE Style. See the guide to writing the references in IEEE Style Format <https://youtu.be/ijmG7iZ0yz0>

The reference must be from IEEE Xplore or Science Direct. All references must have Digital Object Identifier (DOI) or permanent link. See the guide to getting high-quality references from IEEE Xplore <https://youtu.be/2dqjF6Xrs8c>

Please use Mendeley to make the references.

The Figure must be in PNG format with 600-1200 dpi. Please don't crop, or use snipping and print-screens tools. Otherwise, the image resolution will be compromised. The images using vector format (EWM) are better.

The Tabel must be made using the Insert Table feature not from the cropping table as an image.

The Equation must be made using Insert Equation. We suggest using 3 columns of the table to help, and then to make the equation in the middle of the column and the number of the equation on the right-side column. The variable in the equation must be given information. Please see the guide in the link on how to make the equation in word and give the equation number.

https://youtu.be/O57_TLI5vGA

All of the figures, tables, and equations must be explained, please give some explanation, information, or analysis. All of the figures and tables must be given by some analysis in at least one paragraph.

>> Please use Grammarly to check your manuscript. The free Grammarly is enough for fixing some typos and grammar mistakes. Proofreading is recommended to increase the quality of the English language and writing.

>> Please use the template journal and make sure the percentage of plagiarism is under 25% or the manuscript will be rejected.

>> The minimal pages are 8 included references.

Comment of Reviewers

- The abstract is not representative of the content and contributions of the paper. The abstract does not seem to properly convey the rigor of research.
- The abstract must contain 200-300 words that consist of 2-3 sentences about the Introduction, problem, and solution; 1-2 sentences about the research contribution; 3-4 sentences about the method; 4-5 sentences about the result; and 1-2 sentences about conclusions.

- The research contributions of the paper should be articulated more clearly.
- Aside from the aim stated in the title, the research gap and the goals of the research are not specified which leads to the reader missing the significance of the research.
- The introduction section must contain the research problem, solution, state of the art, novelty, literature review from previous research, and research contribution (the most important). Please write the research contribution in the last part of the Introduction, such as "The research contribution is..." At least there are two research contributions.

- Commonly, there are research flow, research diagrams, system block diagrams, control system block diagrams, hardware wiring diagrams, pseudocode, or flowcharts in the method section. The figure must be clear, detailed, not blurry, easy to read, and provide proper information.

- A flowchart should be added to the article to show the research methodology.
- Much more explanations and interpretations must be added to the method, which is not enough at all.

- In the results section, provide a comparison to a similar method from previous works (including citation) to enhance research contributions (compare the result with previous research). All figures and tables must be clear, detailed, not blurry, and easy to read. Each figure and table must be given a comprehensive explanation in at least one paragraph of analysis (crucial).

- The discussion section needs to be described scientifically. Kindly frame it along the following lines:

- Main findings of the present study
- Comparison with other studies
- Implication and explanation of findings
- Strengths and limitations

- It is suggested to compare the results of the present study with previous studies and analyze their results completely.
- Much more explanations and interpretations must be added to the method, which is not enough at all.

- Please add the future work so that it can motivate other researchers to continue the research.

- Add the recommendation and future direction in the conclusion.

- The minimal number of references is 40 and uses the IEEE style. Cited references must be taken from the journal. Each of them should have Digital Object Identifier (DOI) or permanent link. The references were published in the last five years. The references must be from Science Direct, IEEE Xplore, Springer Link, MDPI Scilit, or other reputable databases.

- References must publish 5 years ago in a journal.

- The abstract should contain Objectives, Methods/Analysis, Findings, and Novelty /Improvement.

- The references must use the IEEE Style from search.crossref.org

- However, the manuscript, in its present form, contains several weaknesses. Appropriate revisions to the following points should be undertaken in order to justify recommendations for publication.

- The article can be accepted after revision.

Please add the DOI in the references. For example,

H. I. K. Fathurrahman, A. Ma'arif, and L.-Y. Chin, "The Development of Real-Time Mobile Garbage Detection Using Deep Learning," Jurnal Ilmiah Teknik Elektro Komputer dan Informatika, vol. 7, no. 3, p. 472, 2022, <https://doi.org/10.26555/jiteki.v7i3.22295>.
